

"Empowering Workers, Building Tomorrow Together"

We are making a website for the workers to find the work at your own pace.

Basically, our problem statement is the seasonal worker have not any work during the season off. So, we build a website for them by which they can update our status that at which time the are free and what charges they offer and they can also negotiate the charges with the stakeholders.

Eventually this application would work as an effective use of time.

This application will help working over not over labours but also over contractor, engineers, electrification plumber.

After the work of worker the customer will be provided with a rating page where the customer can review about its work and experience of the labour

Therefore the workers having high experience and rating allotted by the costumer can price high money over there working time.

This would help over costumer and worker for there dream projects.
